Why we're changing opening hours

Why are we making these changes?

We know that our branches and the face-to-face experience they provide are important to our members. They're also an important part of the communities we serve.

However, we also know that more of our members are now using our Internet Bank, Banking app and Telephone Banking services to manage their money. Also, the number of people visiting Ryde branch has been steadily declining over the years. We saw a drop of 43% between 2017 and 2022. And, 64% of Ryde branch members are already registered for online banking and only 40% of members use the branch exclusively.

So, from Monday 19 June 2023, Ryde branch will be closed on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Meaning our colleagues will be able to support the needs of even more members, whether that's responding to their online messages, answering calls or offering video-link appointments to those who need help with more complex financial products, such as mortgages.

And it's by using this branch in new and different ways, serving both the members who want to visit us and the members who don't, that we can ensure it's sustainable into the future.

Important information

Nationwide Building Society fully adheres to the FCA guidance FG22/6 which sets out the expectation that firms should consider the impact of a planned closure or conversion of branches or cash machines on their customers' everyday banking needs.

We're part of something called the 'Access to Banking Standards', which means that if ever we do close branches, we do so responsibly. The overarching principle of the standard is:

"Customers and relevant stakeholders of a bank branch that is closing will be provided with clear, understandable, accessible documentation and information about that specific closure as soon as the bank is able to do so, also what it will mean for them and how they can continue to bank following its closure."
